DEMAND NiBX[®]

A word of caution as the industry recognizes and pursues the value of nickel boron on firearms: Not all nickel borons are the same, and not all applicators are competent. Our NiB-X is a proprietary coating that is expertly applied and guaranteed for life. We've seen many issues from customers who used substandard plating applicators and ended up with either a nickel boron that chipped or flaked, or a coating that was not even nickel boron!

A NOTE FROM WMD'S PRESIDENT

WMD GUNS

THE CHOICE OF CHAMPIONS WORLDWIDE

THIS ISSUE'S SPOTLIGHT: BRAZIL

Discerning civilian, law enforcement, military, and competitive shooters rely on WMD hardware for optimal performance. Nowhere is this more evident right now than in Brazil. Recent changes in Brazil's firearms laws have provided the opportunity for the shooting sports to flourish in that country like never before. And WMD technology has quickly made a name for itself.

Already, 4 of Brazil's top 5 competitors are using WMD rifles; leading the way is multi-medalist Tiago Barreira, a multi-medalist in international competitions. WMD is also a favorite of such prominent Brazilian figures as movie & TV star Sandro Rocha, and social media influencer Aline Kanyo, an instructor, shooter and collector.

Those winners can all attest: Wherever performance is a priority, WMD is ready to deliver.

THIS IS THE BCG that others are imitating.

Only WMD's BCG is engineered specifically for our proprietary NiB-X nickel boron coating. This produces an industry-leading BCG that resists fouling, needs practically no lubrication, and can be cleaned with the quick wipe of a cloth.

Unfortunately, some shooters are discovering that not all nickel boron is created equal when they purchase knock-offs that fail to perform to WMD standards.

WMD's BCG stands apart from all others in the marketplace. You can see the quality in the polished, presentation-grade sheen of our BCG. You can feel it in the permanently lubricious surfaces. And you can experience it as you fire thousands of rounds between cleaning without malfunctions.

Visit the WMD website to learn more about our unique NiB-X BCG—and how to guard against fraudulent imitators.
